ZONING HEARINGS BEING HELD IN COUNTY THIS WEEK

Property Owners Voice Views; Many Oppose Restrictions

Owners of rural property in Lake county are divided as to their opinions regarding the proposed zoning ordinance. This was disclosed Monday when the first of the series of public hearings were held in Antioch, Lake Villa and Newport townships. Other hearings conducted by the zoning board headed by John J. Hogan were held yesterday at Barrington, Lake Zurich, Half Day and Libertyville, and more are to follow on Friday, also on December 20 and 22.

In Antioch Monday strenuous objections were registered by property owners who oppose some of the restrictions of the proposed ordinance. While agreeing upon the provisions of the code affecting safety and beautification of highways, owners of rural property object to having their property zoned to restrict business enterprises in areas where necessity arises.

Property Owners Speak
"It is my belief that the zoning board should proceed with extreme caution in framing such an ordinance," C. K. Anderson told the board. "A code that would fit present day conditions might prove to be a great handicap a few years hence," Anderson said.

"The proposed ordinance will place every foot of rural land under the control of the zoning board, even in remote areas that are far removed from main highways where there is no element of public safety involved," Einar Sorenson declared. Sorenson thinks the proposed ordinance is too broad.

Consider Objections
"The merits of the objections will be given consideration by the commission in drawing the permanent ordinance," John J. Hogan, chairman of the zoning commission, said Monday. "The property owners can acquaint themselves with the tentative ordinance and make their complaints to the commission at these hearings. No doubt, after all public hearings have been held, the commission will make some changes in the ordinance before presenting the final draft to the board of supervisors."

Antioch Lances Lose Close Game to Zion

Scoring a field goal, with only one minute left to play, the Zion Merchants emerged victorious in a hard-fought basketball game with the Antioch lances, Monday evening in the Antioch High School gymnasium. The final score was 20 to 18 in their favor.

The score at the half was 11 to 10 in Zion's favor, but the Antioch boys forged ahead and took the lead in the last quarter, only to have it snatched away by Burke, high-scoring ace from Zion.

Burke accounted for 16 of Zion's 20 points. The Antioch scores were evenly divided, with Thill as top man with two field goals and a free throw. All of the boys played a clean, strong defense game.

Chief Stearns Is Host at Supper Following Bi- Weekly Meeting

Antioch firemen were entertained at a venison supper Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock in the village fire station, following a business meeting. Forty-five were present, including a large delegation of guests from Fox Lake.

The venison was provided by Chief James Stearns, who shot a deer while on a recent hunting trip to Grand View in northern Wisconsin.

Firemen Frank Huber, Einar Peterson and Dudley Kennedy acted as the general committee for the evening. Dr. D. N. Deering and Adolph Kucera were special guests.

The Antioch Fire department was called out late last Thursday afternoon when a fire broke out in a furnace in the Lester Nelson home, corner of Spafford and Lake street, started to burn and filled the house with smoke. Damage was estimated at $500.

SEES BIG HOME BUILDING BOOM FOR YEAR 1939

Ed F. Vos Predicts Industry Is to Have Its Best Year Since 1929

"The home building industry in 1939 is expected to have its best year since 1929," Ed F. Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal Co. declared today upon his return from a building industry merchandising clinic held in Chicago.

Citing facts and figures brought out at the conference sponsored by Johns-Manville and which was attended by more than 500 building material retailers, Mr. Vos said:

"This year we can offer the prospective home builder more house for his money than at any time in history. We have better designs, better materials and construction methods, insulation, air-conditioning, automatic heat, better equipment, lower cost financing, and, actually, because of better use of space, the home of today costs less than 10 years ago."

Mr. Vos revealed that plans have been formulated to make it possible for prospective home owners to select and build a home much as they might purchase an automobile. These plans, he said, will be announced shortly after the first of the year.

Commenting upon general business conditions, Mr. Vos said:

"Past business cycles have shown that real recovery can be had only when supported by strength in the building industry. Today it is a fact that the building industry is leading the current general improvement in business."

"If general business continues to improve, it is quite possible that 400,000 home units will be built next year through private initiative. And to this the activity in the public housing field, and another 100,000 may be easily added next year."

This, Mr. Vos pointed out, would bring a total of 500,000 home units, practically equal to the total for 1929.

As one of the significant developments contributing to the upturn in building, Mr. Vos pointed to the National Housing Guild which was formed more than three years ago by Johns-Manville. The Housing Guild plan was designed to provide "more house for the money" and make it easier for the public to buy housing. Under this plan all local factors of the building industry including contractors, architects, sub-contractors, financing agencies, materials dealers and others are organized into a "one-stop" service organization where the consumer can deal with one individual in planning, constructing and financing any type of home construction or remodeling job.

Last 1938 Communion Service at M. E. Church

The last Communion service of the Antioch Methodist church for the year 1938 will be held in conjunction with the morning service Sunday, Dec. 18. C. Henslee, pastor. "We invite all God's children to share it with us."

Henslee, announces that he will appreciate the cooperation of all members and friends of the church in this forward movement.

RECREATION COMMITTEE TO COLLECT TOYS

Out-grown Playthings Will Be Collected for Needy Families

The task of collecting cast-off and out-grown toys for distribution to children in needy families is being undertaken by the Antioch Recreation committee in co-operation with the schools and the community in general.

All persons having toys, games, etc., which are no longer in use in their households and which they would like to contribute are being asked to aid in the project.

The committee will arrange to have someone pick them up if this is desired. The grade school office staff is lending its assistance by taking calls from all persons who have toys to give.

May Be Sent to School
Toys may also be sent to the school with school children or may be left at the grade school office.

Because of the short time remaining and the fact that most of the members of recreation groups are already busy with other projects, including articles which they hope to finish in time to use as Christmas gifts, few repairs can be made on the toys. For this reason, persons who are donating them are being asked to have them in as good condition as possible. Extra boxes will also be appreciated, the committee announces.

Recreation classes are to be continued through the Christmas holidays.

ANTIOCH DONS FESTAL DRESS FOR YULETIDE

Christmas Decorations up; Lions Club to Donate Prize for Window

With strings of colored Christmas lights festooned overhead up and down Main street and the community Christmas tree set up at the corner of Main and Orchard street, Antioch has been taking on a gay Yuletide aspect day by day this week.

The village firemen have been donating their services for putting up the lights and trimming the tree, around which the annual "Community Christmas party" for children will be staged Friday evening, Dec. 23, at 7:30 o'clock.

Offer Prizes

Two prizes of $10 each for the best Yule decorations are being offered by the Antioch Lions club. One of these will be for the best store or business establishment window, and the other for the best home decoration.

At its last meeting the club also voted to set aside a sum to be applied toward the providing of Christmas baskets for needy deserving families in the village.

The village board members are providing supplies of fruit and candy for distribution to the children at the Community party. While last year's party was for youngsters and older people alike, this year's event is being designed especially to bring happiness to the children, although all are invited to attend. The children will be served first in the distribution of gifts, in order to insure that none of them will be disappointed.

The broadcasting of carols over a loud-speaker system during the coming week will also add to the Christmas atmosphere of the village.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS MISS BREWER

Speaker, "Seeing Eye" Dog, Visit Antioch Under Auspices of Club

The Antioch High School auditorium was filled by the audience that gathered to hear the talk given there by Roselle Brewer Friday evening under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club.

The petite speaker, who aspired to be a dancer before loss of sight cut short her career in that field, was accompanied by her famous "Seeing Eye" dog, "Lady Luck."

Miss Brewer's lovely speaking voice and winning personality, as well as the interesting story she had to tell, charmed her hearers. Miss Brewer described the training of the "Seeing Eye" dogs and also told something of her own life story and of her experiences traveling about the country as a lecturer.

Earle Gibbs Catches

Sailfish in Florida
Earle R. Gibbs reached the goal of all true fishermen Friday when he hooked and landed a 55-lb. sailfish off the coast of Florida at Miami. This was the largest catch of the day and Fisherman Gibbs was honored by being interviewed over radio station WKAT that night. This was a more trying experience than his 35-minute struggle with the seven-foot sailfish, Earle writes the News.

Mr. Gibbs, local manager of the Antioch A & P store, states he is having a grand time on his vacation in the Peninsula state and that weather is ideal, from 70 to 80 degrees. Enjoying the vacation trip with him are his mother, Mrs. Robt. Gibbs of Richmond, his brother, Donald, and Miss Wilma Musch of Antioch.

Christian Science Notable To Be Heard on Radio Friday

The Guardian of Freedom

"Scorned in many lands, assailed even here, the Bills of Rights are the final safeguard of the individual," is the message contained in an article by James Truslow Adams in the New York Times magazine.

"In a time when personal liberties are being trampled under foot and when personal vengeance is not only condoned but encouraged by totalitarian leaders," writes this eminent American historian, "the greatest democracies must look again and with new concern to their Bills of Rights. In such documents live the sum of man's victories over the forces of barbarism and oppression, and in their preservation lies the hope of man as a free individual."

"The Bills of Rights have been abandoned in the totalitarian countries. In Great Britain and in France there has been complaint against unofficial censorship. In our own America we have seen free speech and free assembly challenged—and upheld by the courts. Seeing these things, we cannot fail to realize that our own Bill of Rights, under the protection of the courts, is the sole guarantee of the liberties of the individual."

In this country, the Bill of Rights is the body of principles contained in the first ten amendments to the Constitution. And it is by all odds the most vital section of that great document of human freedom. The right to worship as one desires—the rights of free speech and free press—the right to petition the government for a redress of grievances—the right of trial by jury. All these and other rights without which human freedom is an empty term, are specified and guaranteed—the tenets of democracy, in firm, clear phrases.

And here is the final safeguard of the individual, as Mr. Adams says. Whenever we weaken any of these rights, no matter how little, we move a step toward authoritarianism. There never was a time in history when it was more important for a free nation of free men to again appraise and reaffirm the great principles laid down by the founding fathers in the Bill of Rights.

For the People—

The new Congress convenes in Washington next month. It will be the seventy-sixth since that body was created by the United States Constitution 151 years ago. Its duties will not unlike any Congresses of the past—legislating in the best interest of all the people. And that is the case in point.

In the past few years new laws have been written into the rule book of economic life. Doubt has been raised that some of them are in the best interest of all the people. In the main, the objectives of many of these laws have been worthy, but they were conceived and written so hurriedly that they have blocked their own supposed objective—that of bringing recovery. Or perhaps the objectives have been too Utopian, and we should know by now that we cannot legislate our way to Utopia any more than we can spend our way out of debt.

It would be wishful thinking to suppose that Utopian schemes are at an end. There is always someone with a cure-all panacea and seemingly always someone willing to listen to it. Already some of the Washington theorists are reported drafting more cure-all measures for presentation to Congress in January.

What attitude the new Congress will take toward these "chasing the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow" schemes is yet to be seen. It is to be hoped the Congress will see the folly of the fantasy and get down to the task of making some of the present laws workable.

That would be in the best interest of all the people.

Inventions Mean Jobs

To those doubting Thomases who shake their heads dolefully and argue that new inventions and machines cause unemployment, two recent news items should be required reading.

They disclose that two new industries, which will contribute to a further rise in the American living standard, are about to be born.

One is television. Literally millions have been spent in research in this field. Now television sets are to be produced commercially by next spring.

The other industry will make a new yarn material. It, too, was born in an industrial research laboratory. It will be housed in two large factories, costing $17,000,000.

Thousands of new jobs will be created in these industries. How many, nobody can foresee. But their development constitutes a formidable argument against pending proposals to hamstring science and invention by putting them under Federal supervision.

Who Knows the Answer?

"Just tell me when we are going to remove the restrictions which prevent close co-operation between management and employees; when we are going to stop putting shackles on production; when we are to be sure of a sound currency; when our government expenditures are going to be brought into line with government income, based on a fair tax burden, and I will tell you when this country of ours will enter the greatest period of prosperity it has ever known."—Franklin R. Hoadley, President, National Founders Association.

LAKE VILLA

The topic for next Sunday's sermon by Rev. Allen will be "Why Was Jesus Born in a Stable?"

Because Christmas Day falls on Sunday the Church is changing the hour of its worship service for that one day, in order that everyone will have an opportunity to attend the church service. Sunday-school will be held on Christmas Day at the regular hour of 10 A. M., but the worship service will be held at 3 P. M. Christmas afternoon instead of 11 o'clock in the morning. The Pastor has secured new equipment and will play the beautiful Christmas music during the service. If you have visitors in your home on that day, bring them with you to this service.

The Lake Villa Community church wants to take this opportunity to thank the Lake Villa Fire Department for its generous Christmas gift, and assures them that it will be used to the best of the community interest.

The Christmas program will be held at the church on Friday evening, Dec. 23, beginning at 8 o'clock. The children have been busy practicing for several weeks on the program that will be given that evening and promise that it is to be even better than last year. Santa Claus wrote a letter last week and said that he would be on hand with a big load of toys and good things to eat. Everyone in the community and surrounding territory is invited to come and enjoy the evening.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its Christmas party at the Charles Hamlin home on Friday afternoon this week. Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Hamlin are hostesses. There will be a Christmas program and an exchange of gifts. There will be no further meeting of the group until Jan. 4, which will be the quarterly birthday party.

Mr. and Mrs. Karolous and daughters spent Saturday and Sunday with the Johnson family in Chicago and made a trip down town to visit Santa Claus.

Mrs. Fred Funk, who has been quite ill, was taken to the Lake County General hospital early last week for treatment, and she is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Slater who have been visiting Mr. Slater's relatives in California, returned last week and spent a few days with Mrs. Slater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Seeger, and are again living in their apartment at Grayslake.

Mrs. Fred Bartlett has been suffering from an infected tooth during the past week.

Mrs. Louisa Thayer and Mrs. Lawrence Thayer were Waukegan visitors on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish of Barrington were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fish, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leonard are spending the week with friends in Wilmette.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerber who live with H. Peterson, are receiving congratulations on the birth of an 8-pound daughter at their home last Friday.

Lesson for December 18

CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 5:43-48; 22:34-40; John 13:34, 35; 15:12-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.—John 13:34.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

The heart of all moral law is found in the Ten Commandments, but the very heart of the commandments is the "new commandment" of Christ, that we love God with our whole being and love our neighbors as ourselves. For if we have that perfect devotion to God we shall keep His commandments (John 15:9-10), and shall show our love to our neighbors by positive acts of interest and devotion, as well as by refraining from falsehood, violence and impurity.

The message of our lesson today is one which will strike home to the hearts of honest and earnest men and women. When we stand in the revealing light of God's Holy Word we cry out for forgiveness for the manner in which we have failed truly to represent our Lord in the world, and in prayer for grace to live as we should. Let no unbeliever who reads these words use them as a basis for criticism of his Christian neighbor; but let him consider his own need of the regenerating and enabling grace of God.

Our outline for today we borrow with thanks from Points for Emphasis, by Dr. Hight C. Moore. It so aptly presents the truth that it merits our study.

I. Standard of the New Commandment (Matt. 5:43-48).

"Love your enemies" (v. 44), that is the standard, which Christ has established for His followers. While the love one has for the brethren is without doubt a more intimate relationship than the love one may have for an enemy, we must not seek to minimize the real love we should have even for those who curse and revile us. It is to move us so deeply that we not only treat them kindly, but also pray for them. Humanly speaking such a thing is impossible, but in Christ it is not only possible, it has actually been demonstrated in life. It is so easy for Christians to speak with decision that borders on hatred about "the devil's gang," to lose all love for the crowd that hangs around the tavern and the gambling house. Let us hate their sin, but may God help us to show that we really love them.

II. Scope of the New Commandment (Matt. 22:34-40).

It is as high as God, as deep as the lowest sinner, and as wide as the circle of all mankind.

A man must be right with God if he is truly and fully to love his fellow men. To be right with Him does not mean a half-hearted one-day-a-week interest in religious matters, and that only up to the point where they do not interfere with our own interests and desires. To love God means to give Him the devotion of our entire being.

Loving one's neighbors does not just mean the man next door. Even that is none too easy at times, and some of us realize that we have failed even there. But the man in Sweden, China, Germany, anywhere on this earth, is our neighbor and needs our love. There are no "foreigners" in God's thinking about love; no poor or rich, no ignorant, no members of "another social order"—they are all our neighbors.

III. Spirit of the New Commandment (John 13:34, 35).

"As I have loved you"—that is the spirit that is to move us to love our neighbor. God is love, and it was always His will that men should love one another. But the new element in this commandment of Christ is that He, the final and perfect revelation of God's love, had come to give His life in loving service and sacrificial atonement. Paul caught the spirit of this commandment when he said, "The love of Christ constraineth us" (II Cor. 5:14). There is the real motive, the true spirit of Christian life and service.

IV. Sacrifice in the New Commandment (John 15:12-14).

Love draws no limiting line beyond which it will not go. Love says: "I count not my life dear if in giving it I may bring deliverance to my friends."

Some folk talk piously of their love for God, but are not willing to go even across the street to speak to a soul about Him. If we love Him we would willingly go to the ends of the earth for Him, or contentedly serve Him in what seems to be a forgotten corner. We shall not question His guidance nor blush to own His name, even though the testimony may mean our death. This we shall do for Christ's sake, and for the sake of a suffering humanity.

The writer thinks of John and Betty Stam whom he was privileged to teach in the classrooms of the Moody Bible Institute, and who not long afterward poured out their gallant young lives in martyrdom for Christ in China. "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends."

The National Retail Chain Store Tax Bill

---AND---

Our Answer to A & P's Statement of Public Policy

The National Chain Store Tax Bill to be introduced at the next session of Congress will, if enacted, confine the operations of interstate chain store grocery systems such as the A & P Tea Company to one or a very few states. For this reason the A & P Tea Company has been advertising in your newspapers its opposition to the proposed law under the heading, "A Statement of Public Policy" in which it sets forth the great benefits it says it brings to you as consumers, to its employees, to labor and to farmers.

We want you to know and realize that the A & P stores and the stores of other interstate chain store systems in your city and state do far more harm to you and to the civic and economic life of your community and state, than they do good. If by any chance you may be disposed to take their claims at face value and consider interstate chain stores as a benefit, please be advised that it is a benefit acquired at so dear a cost to you and your community that it loses the name of benefit and becomes deficit.

We desire that you know that the sales to you of food and grocery commodities through the stores of the retail grocers who live in your city and own and operate their own stores and through the stores of the smaller chains that are operated wholly within the bounds of your own state by citizens of your own state are much more beneficial to you as a daily buyer of food and to your fathers, husbands and sons and daughters than sales to you through the absentee-owned chain stores like the A & P, which remove their net profits from your community to the big financial centers like New York and Chicago, thereby depleting the resources of your community, stunting its growth and closing the door of opportunity to your sons and daughters profitably to engage in retailing in your community, city or state, as owners and proprietors.

Interstate Chains, the Slacker System of Distribution

Interstate chains shirk the necessary social and economic burdens that the rest of us have to bear, and then they brandish before you the results of their shirking, as "benefits" to you and as "efficiency."

But the efficiency of the interstate chain store system is not true efficiency. It is a destructive contrivance. The wreckage which it works on social and economic life must be cleared away or made good at public expense.

Sometimes you may think you are benefited by a certain few low prices in the special sales of interstate chain stores on Fridays and Saturdays but when you know the facts you will realize that any pittance you may conserve thereby, you and your husband, as members of your community, and as city, state and Federal taxpayers, must more than make up, from other partitions of your pocketbooks. When you reach for these falsefaced prices you drop substance for shadow.

How A & P, Chief of Slacker Interstate Chains, Does Its Slacking:

(1) It Shirks the Civic Needs of Your Community

Ask A & P managers or supervisors for contributions in aid of locating an institution, industrial plant or other community-progress enterprise in your city or section and see how far you succeed. Ask them even for donations to your favorite charities. You may or may not get something. If you get anything, with some exceptions in the attempt to allay increasing anti-chain store movements, it will likely be the least thing. Yet, this failure to contribute money to the civic needs of your community, to the extent that it exists, shows up on A & P's profit ledgers as "efficiency." By reason of such efficiency, however, you yourself and other citizens of your community have to make larger civic donations. Ask your pocketbook then whether A & P stores have really benefited you.

(2) It Shirks the Credit Needs of Your Community

Ask the manager of an A & P store to let you have groceries and food articles on credit at any time, or even in time of flood, fire, strikes or general unemployment. See if you get any credit. Try it. A & P with perhaps sporadic exceptions shirks local credit needs. Its shirking shows up on its profit ledgers as "efficiency." For whom? For A & P, not for you as a taxpayer. Such efficiency causes loan sharks to multiply, causes expenditure of tax money to pass and enforce laws to control them, causes more persons in your community to be placed on relief who must be supported by increased taxation. When you come to pay such taxes, ask your pocketbook then if A & P stores really benefit you.

(3) It Shirks Necessary Wastage Losses in Handling Goods in Its Stores

A & P warehouses furnish to its retail stores dressed poultry, meats or other commodities which, because of their nature, must be weighed out by the pound. The managers of A & P stores must later show to A & P check-up supervisors either the commodities in the ice box, or on the shelves, or the money for them in the cash register, including a profit, on the poundage sold. A & P thus escape inventory or shrinkage loss and that shows up as "efficiency" on its profit ledgers. But since it is humanly impossible for A & P employees to handle commodities of that kind without some errors, some shrinkage and some wastage, the harsh requirement that they do so notwithstanding furnishes them an incentive to shortweigh what customers buy, in order to protect themselves from personal loss, in other words, the requirement acts upon them as a definite prod to short weights, as witness the following happenings:

A & P in 1936 was convicted and fined in 23 cases of short weight poultry in the District of Columbia, which were the result of an investigation by buyers for the Weights and Measures Department for the District of Columbia, disclosing 71 short weight purchases out of 81 purchases made over a period of three months. Thus A & P escaped inventory loss but its "efficiency" in this respect was at the expense of its patrons who bought dressed poultry during that period. Let A & P patrons ask themselves if the A & P stores in which they made such purchases were of any real benefit to them.

(4) It Shirks the Social Necessity of Providing Adequate Income to Farmers and Growers

The Federal Trade Commission, at the request of Congress, investigated factors bearing on agricultural income and reported in 1937 that the large chain stores depressed prices to growers and farmers and the facts revealed by the commission show that the A & P was the worst offender of them all. The interstate chains, using their mass buying power, beat down farmer and grower prices below their just or even their current level. No doubt you have often wondered why Congress is always worried about the plight of the farmers, and why it is always making huge appropriations for their relief. You should wonder no longer. When you come to pay increased taxes necessitated by such appropriations, ask your pocketbook if you really benefit by prices made to you by A & P and other interstate chains on farm products which embody diminution of a fair return to farmers for their labors.

(5) It Shirks the Duty of Maintaining or Increasing Employment

The A & P during the last three years has closed about 4,000 of its stores and opened many consolidated stores called Super-Markets and thereby has thrown out of employment, conservatively estimated, 10,000 of its former employees. The operation of A & P's comparatively employee-less self-service Super-Markets shows up on its profit ledgers as "efficiency," but what a cruelly destructive efficiency! More people on relief, more public money for their support! When you pay increased taxes necessitated thereby, ask your pocketbook if A & P stores really benefit you.

(6) It Shirks the Duty of Law Obedience

The Federal Trade Commission, after investigating A & P operations, found that A & P was securing money advantages for itself by violating the provisions of the Robinson-Patman Act, and the Secretary of Agriculture, after a similar investigation, found that A & P was securing money advantages for itself by violating the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act. We have already shown how A & P secured money advantages for itself by violating the provisions of the Weights and Measures Act of the District of Columbia. What are you to say to yourselves when you discover you are recipients of prices that are the result of law violation?

This Is What We Are Requesting You To Do --- NOW!

Hence we declare to you that the interstate chain store systems are distinctly anti-social because they shirk the burdens that you must bear and because their shirking means that your burdens must be all the heavier. What disguised benefits you may receive from them, you more than make up out of another corner of your purse. Their benefits are apparent, not real. You pay for them through the nose.

We urge you, therefore, to communicate with your Congressmen and Senators, asking their support of the National Retail Chain Store Tax Bill. By the enactment of that measure the operations of the interstate chain stores will be confined to a few states and your grocery business will be done by the citizens of your own community and your own city, as interstate chain successors, who, along with you, will be part and parcel of your community and city, who will be willing burden-bearers instead of shirkers, who will practice a socially constructive, not a socially destructive efficiency, and who, joining us, will form a group that by intense competition among its members will service you with food and grocery products at the lowest possible prices consistent with the general welfare of your state and of the entire nation.

Write your Congressmen now urging the passage of the Patman Bill. Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Senator Scott W. Lucas, Representative Ralph E. Church. Address all three at Washington, D. C.
